93+ POINTS

The 2016 Pinot Noir Rancho La Encantada is one of the more understated wines in this range. Floral overtones give the sweet red cherry, mint and white pepper notes striking lift. Gracious, pretty and impeccably balanced, the 2016 will drink beautifully right out of the gate. The 2016 is not an obvious wine, as so many Sta. Rita Hills Pinots can be, but it just gets better and better with time in the glass.
